Dear Hilda,

Any other than the above salutation would seem out of order, for I am afraid you shall always be Hilda to us. My sincere thank you is somewhat belated in reaching you, because we were almost "snowed under" with the Week of the Arts. I want to assure you, however, that you have had our prayers these past two weeks, and we hope that your sojourn at the hospital was not too trying an experience.

You certainly won the hearts of all whom you addressed on the afternoon of March 11. Students are still showing me the notes they took that afternoon, and some have assured me that they only hope that they can apply some of your principles in their future homes. I am so glad that Elizabeth liked the mouse. I wish I could have looked in on the welcome she and Sheila gave you when you returned home.

Thank you once again for your wonderful help with our Week of the Arts. Please be sure to keep us and our work on your "prayer list".

Sincerely yours,

Sister M. Claudia
